INJURED PLAYING BALL

School Boys, Dwight Beeson and Ellsworth Morgan, Collide... Former Badly Hurt.

While playing ball on the Webster School grounds before the opening of school Monday morning, Dwight Beeson and Ellsworth Morgan were badly

When a fly was knocked up both boys ran to catch it. Each had his eyes on ONLY ONE BALLOT TAKEN the ball and did not see the other. Running at full speed they came together. They were both knocked unconscious. Young Beeson was very seriously injured. His nose was broken, his cheek bone broken and the frontal bone of his forehead fractured. Young Morgan, while rendered unconscious and was very sick for a short time, suffered no broken bones and has almost entirely recovered from the effects of the accident. Young Beeson is getting along remarkably well but is not considered out of danger.

The ball must have came between the heads of the boys at the moment they came together, the force of Morgan's head against the ball caving in the forehead of Beeson.

The boys are pupils of the 7th grade of the Webster building and are about thirteen years of age. Beeson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Beeson and Morgan a son of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Morgan.

The new Weights and Measures Law will go into effect on June 10. For the benefit of dealers and consumers a few of its important provisions are

All berries and small fruits must be sold by standard dry measure, that is, pint, quart, half bushel, etc., they can not be priced by boxes or crates. This applies both to the producer and the erty for about $7500. sizes of standard, dry measures, just the same as the retailer.

It is also required that all dealers must have sealed scales, that is, scales tested and found correct by the Sealer of Weights and Measures or his depu-

The law also makes it an offense for anyone to offer you goods except by count or net weight unless you sign a written agreement to accept it some

The whole intent and purpose of the law is to require people selling provisions of all kinds to give the purchaser just what they represent they are giving. A fine may be imposed upon anyone violating any of the provisions of the law. By the law it is hoped to prevent the giving of short weights and measures.
